TEN CENTS PER WEEK

EARTHQUAKE'S VICTIMS WILL NUMBER ABOVE THOUSAND IS THE BELIEF IN ROME TODAY

Hundreds of Bodies Have Been Removed From Debris of the Stricken Cities.

Rome, Oct. 25.—The latest advices say the death list in yesterday's earthquake greatly exceeds a thousand. Two hundred and ten bodies were recovered at Ferruzzano. It is certain 600 were killed there alone.

Rome, Oct. 25.—At 6 o'clock last evening about two hundred bodies were taken from the earthquake ruins. It is now estimated that the deaths will surpass five hundred but it is impossible to get accurate information on this subject, as many villages are still cut off by floods and destruction of roads and telegraph lines, and no word from them can be had. The earthquake shocks continue but they are slight. The people are still in a condition of apprehension which is increased by each tremor, and in spite of the torrential rain that is falling, they absolutely refuse to remain under any cover. They have made their beds in the open. Mattresses have been spread about the squares and fields surrounding the stricken villages, and people are covering themselves and their children as best they may.

Many thousands will pass the night

D. A. R. MONUMENT AT FORT MASSAC UNVEILED IN NOV.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 25.—Seven-five delegates, ten of whom are from Chicago, attended the opening sessions of the eleventh annual conference of the Illinois Daughters of the American Revolution at the Broad way Presbyterian church. The report of the committee on Fort Massac at Metropolis, Ill., was given by Mrs. Hickox, who stated that it is hoped the unveiling of the monument erected there by the state organization will occur the first week in November. The society has been waiting for Gov. Deneen, who has been too busy to attend heretofore. The report of the state historian, Mary C. Todd, of Oak Park, contained a memorial reference to Mrs. Frances A. Lackey, elected historian at the last meeting, but who died during the year.

The case against Capt. W. S. O'Brien for the alleged converting of peanuts to his own use, was continued by Justice C. W. Emery yesterday afternoon until Saturday, on account of the absence of witnesses.

Watch for Insane Man.
Chief of Police James Collins has been instructed to watch out for John M. Robb, manager of the Chattanooga, Tenn., gas company, who wandered away from home October 11 while temporarily mentally deranged.

Mrs. Graham Improving.
Mrs. Charles E. Graham, who underwent a serious operation yesterday at the Riverside hospital, is resting more comfortably. She was very ill last night and her physician considers the crisis will not be for 24 hours.

Good Sales at Gregory Heights.
Auction sales at Gregory Heights yesterday exceeded the initial day by several thousand dollars in receipts. It is estimated that fully $15,000 worth of property was disposed of at various prices. Bidding was spirited from the outset, and buyers were more plentiful than the first day.

John D.'s Ancestors.
New York, Oct. 25.—John D. Rockefeller learned today that his noblest ancestor lived in France instead of Germany, as has been the belief. His oldest ancestor was a baron with a coat of arms, who made money stamping it with his name. The ancestor was located by Dr. Lewis.

Wants to Buy Dogs.
Dogs of every description are being sought by Mr. George Robertson, the well known sportsman, who is preparing his pack of dogs for an annual bear hunt in Arkansas. Every year he goes to the wilds of that state to shoot bear, and takes with him half a hundred dogs to use in the sport. He expects to get away by November 18.

in this manner. The only buildings that the frightened people will consent to enter are churches and even there, they will not stay long. Sacred relics have been exposed in the cathedral of Catanzaro and this served in a measure to calm the population.

No bodies had been recovered from the ruins until 6 o'clock last evening. At that hour about two hundred were taken out. This earthquake bids fair to rival that of 1905.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF CORPORATIONS IS SMITH'S PLAN

Chicago, Oct. 25.—A vigorous plea for the establishment of an effective system of federal supervision of corporations was made here today by Herbert Know Smith, commissioner of corporations, before the National Civic Federation.

After arguing on the needs of such supervision, the commissioner said: "The real motive to be considered is not the fact that combinations exist but how the power is used. Some corporate managers use their power to increase their own efficiency and maintain their hold on their business by better service or lower prices. This is the proper use of power. On the other hand certain concerns try to cripple the efficiency of their competitors by unfair means of competition inducing the public agencies such as railroads, to give them private discriminations, subordination of competitor's employees, oppressive litigation and misuse generally of commercial power.

"Our industrial machinery is so infinitely complex it cannot be adjusted by the remote, inflexible occasional remedy of judicial procedure.

"We must meet business organization with business organization, not with the mere fiat of statute left to enforce itself unsupported. Establishment, say, a simple system of regulation by supervision. Provide a government officer to administer it. Require that all large corporations doing a certain gross amount of business a year shall make reports to that officer, provide for publicity by that officer, in concise form or all of the facts in regard to such corporations that are of public interest, but safeguarding proper business secrets. Provide also for that protection of law-abiding corporations that is the co-relative of regulation.

"Such a system will prevent wrongs that cannot be reached by statute supervision, and publicity will also prevent wrong before hand, and prevention is better than punishment. I would rather have an ounce of natural understanding than a ton of criminal penalties. It is not too much to hope there will arise some co-operation between the government charged with the public welfare and corporate managers who control forces so large as to be governmental in their scope and public interest."

In conclusion the commissioner argued the federal government was the only power that could carry on such a system of regulation, for it was the only jurisdiction commensurate with the scope of present corporate operations. "Any system by which the state must always be," he held, "a chaos of conflicting legal conditions resulting in inefficiency and uncertainty."

The federation referred to a committee a resolution, requiring labor unions to procure licenses from the federal government. Other resolutions were a demand for the appeal or amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law and then provide for government supervision that will make them good.

SENATOR PAYNTER HERE.

Hon. T. H. Paynter, of Frankfort, United States senator, arrived this morning at 9 o'clock and was met at the train by Tom Harrison and Mayor Yelzer, who is Senator Paynter's personal friend. Senator Paynter will speak at the court house tonight at 7:30 o'clock, making a special plea for the salvation of the local Democratic ticket.

Which Is Better For Paducah?

A deal of bad sentiment has been expended by misguided spellbinders in Paducah this fall in their efforts to array class prejudice against the business interests of the city in the approaching municipal election. Orators at the Mechanicsburg "rally" the other night drew broad comparisons between our own natty Tom Harrison and lanky Abe Lincoln, and touching references were made to the boyhood struggles of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. Indeed, the good people of Mechanicsburg were given to understand that they have an opportunity to vote for a prophet of no less magnitude than either of these renowned backwoods boys.

Then comes the little party organ, trailing along behind the verbal big guns with its mud battery, accusing James P. Smith of being "r-r-rich," in a manner that would not ill-become the "Appeal to Reason," and, after the ordinary style of anarchist publications, charging Providence with being an accessory before the fact. It is sobering to reflect how easily an unaccustomed pen follows the logic of the wormwood eaters. The News-Democrat discourses in trite phrases about wealth being a blessing if liberally dispensed and the rest of the usual tirade, just as if the amount of property James P. Smith has, or Tom Harrison hasn't, cuts any figures in the situation, except as its management reveals the competency, experience and general fitness of the one or the other for the office.

Tom Harrison is a good fellow. We might support him for some positions—but not that of mayor of Paducah. There is too much at stake. Not that we love Tom less, but that we love Paducah more.

"There will be a Republican vote for the Democratic ticket for every Democrat who sells himself to the Smith barrel," snarls the enraged party organ, sniffing disaffection somewhere, and bringing its slander guns to bear in the proper quarter.

Those are business men, owners of little homes and working men, desirous of seeing the city grow and their opportunities broaden, who don't want politicians to use the tax money for political purposes. Talking about a "barrel" won't move them. They are not so much concerned about any private "barrel" that may be opened, as they are about the danger of a big public "barrel" being opened in the city hall. They pay taxes, or help to do so, and they are going to support a man, who was brought out on the very platform of reduced taxation and municipal improvements.

There are offices to which we are always delighted to boast aspiring young men, especially if they are poor, and the more they resemble Abraham Lincoln the better. But municipal affairs in large and growing cities present complex economical questions, concerning the raising and disbursing of vast sums of money, and problems of public credit, contractual relations and innumerable matters in which judgment and experience will save the city thousands of dollars annually. Yet the spellbinders would have us believe that lack of financial experience is the essential we must examine for in our candidates; and the party organ impresses us with the need for a liberal handed, generous giver to protect the city treasury in matters of public works.

The mayor's office is not a clerical position. It is an office, the incumbent of which may so improve the city, promote its welfare and reduce its taxes that it will prosper and attract capital and industries; or he may so mismanage or maladminister the city's affairs, by squandering taxes, impairing credit and impoverishing its resources, that the municipality will be forever handicapped in the race of progress.

Now, which do you prefer; the man whose property interests and liability for taxes are a guaranty of good service, with experience and judgment to back it; or a politician, whose election will mean merely the triumph of a faction in his party?

New York City is Now Financially Convalescent, But Still Shaky as it Returns to its Normal Condition

New York, Oct. 25.—Financially this city is convalescent, but still decidedly shaky. Despite the assurance given by Morgan and Cortelyou, it will be days before conditions are normal. The hardest blow was the suspension in Providence of the Union Trust company with deposits of $25,000,000. Cortelyou is hopeful that the trouble is past, but will continue to render assistance.

United States Exchange bank, capital $100,000, failed to open today. The Borough bank, of Brooklyn, suspended payment. The Providence, R. I. Union Trust company today suspended payment temporarily.

Pittsburg, Oct. 25.—Stock Exchange is closed again today.

DEATH RELIEVES AGONY OF LITTLE M'CASLIN CHILD

Benton, Ky., Oct. 25. (Special.)—Death at last relieved the suffering of the two-year-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. U. S. McCaslin, and last night at 6 o'clock she died as the result of burns received Monday noon. She was playing with matches and set her dress afire. Before her mother could reach her, her side and head were terribly burned. The Rev. J. W. Blackard, presiding elder of the Methodist church, came to Benton from Paducah this afternoon to preach the funeral.

The burial will take place tomorrow at Martin, Tenn.

TEDDY HAS HIS JOKE.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Telling Robert Owen, who is to be senator from Oklahoma, the only criticism he had to the constitution was that it failed to prescribe the kind of tooth powder a true Oklahoman must use. President Roosevelt said he would probably approve the remarkable document, not because he likes it, but because Oklahomans seem to want it.

THE WEATHER.

Partly cloudy and cooler tonight, and probably Saturday. Highest temperature yesterday, 77; lowest today, 52.

Cincinnati, Oct. 25.—The initiative in a national movement of steamboat men for legislation affecting the inland waterways of the United States was taken in this city yesterday. These two paragraphs will be embodied in letters to be sent to the river men in all parts of the United States, who will be asked to attend a national meeting in Washington, December 3.

A permanent organization of inland waterway interests will be formed. President—James A. Henderson Pittsburg.

SKELETONS MAY BE DRAGGED FROM ROYAL CLOSETS

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The hearing of the case of Count Kuno Von Moltke, former military governor of Berlin, against Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zu Kunst, for defamation of character, is growing more exciting every day.

In today's proceedings, Dr. Von Gordon, counsel for the plaintiff, declared that he would eventually ask for the testimony of Emeper William to prove that Count Von Moltke has never used his office to promote political ends. Herr Bernstein, counsel for Harden, agreed to his proposal.

Harden proposes to call the head of the police department to testify as to what he knows regarding Prince Philip Zeulenberg, formerly German ambassador to Vienna, and Lieutenant General Count William Von Honehan, one of the emperor's adjutants.

The bench has decided to admit the testimony to prove that the alleged unnatural practices prevailed among the friends of Von Moltke.

The public will be excluded from the hearings but representatives of the press will be allowed to remain.

An army officer who had served in the Guard Du Corps at Potsdam, was called as a witness today and testified having taken part in unnatural orgies at the house of Count Lynar, which had resulted in the dismissal from the service in disgrace of the count and Lieutenant General Von Honehan.

LICENSE LEAGUE PLANS CAMPAIGN TO REMEDY EVILS

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Representatives of the whisky interest from twelve states in session here yesterday, organized "The Model License League," and will prosecute a vigorous campaign for legislation to remedy the present evils of the business. The association adopted a constitution, the substance of which is that the solution of this great problem is in wise legislation, looking not to the prohibition, but to the proper regulation of the traffic; by earning the good-will and aid of those engaged therein; in the enforcement of the law—by rewarding them their rendition of such assistance; removing them from necessary participation in politics, and removing from them the constant fear that at any moment their business may be destroyed and the accumulation of long years may be dissipated.

The league will seek to secure uniform license laws in all of the states and cities; to have high license prevail; certain restrictions as to locations, and to the number of saloons in a city, according to the population.

Didn't Get Married.

Failure of a preacher to respond to an urgent call prevented a "police court wedding" this morning, but the principals are in the city jail, and when a preacher can be secured, the marriage will take place. Spectators who had flocked to the city hall to witness the unusual ceremony were disappointed. The contracting parties are Gus Torian, 17 years old, colored, and Sallie Daniels, 23 years old, colored, who accuses him of betraying her.

GOVERNOR HOCH OF KANSAS TALKS ABOUT THIRD TERM

Washington, Oct. 25.—Contrary to expectation Roosevelt has not yet announced his intention not to accept a third term. It is thought southern pressure is delaying the statement.

Governor Hoch, of Kansas, after calling on Roosevelt today, said: "We third termers will elect the president again whether he likes it or not. We'll run over everybody against him like a herd of Texas steers. Wall street furies don't bother me any. In Kansas everything has to be carried on along legitimate manner. Roosevelt is the only candidate Kansas has for president."

Former Secretary Still Has Confidence in the Paducah Basket Plant Says Failure of Grape Crop Caused Loss of Business For This Year

New York, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—The Sun today prints the following concerning the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine company, which sold nearly $1,500,000 worth of stock throughout the country and has gone to smash. The latest office of the company (in Jersey City) has been stripped clean of books and papers. Edward P. Parkhurst, president, of New Haven, has been unable to get any trace of Charles R. Barlow, treasurer of the company. According to the original promises, the Mergenthaler-Horton machine was going to make a standard fruit basket which would revolutionize the basket industry in a short time.

Sidney Whitlock, former secretary, said: "There must have been a great deal more than a million dollars taken in from the sale of stock. Our Paducah plant alone cost $750,000 and we spent $200,000 advertising. A lot more was spent buying other basket machine patents. The experimental work also was costly. After we manufactured a lot of machines we found a flaw in them, which made us a loss. The machines were exhibited in various cities, where we had branch offices, and this took money. Parties of prospective stockholders were taken to Paducah from New York and this also was expensive."

"I think the company would have been able to run if there had been any grape and peach crop this year. It depended on grapes for summer business and on peaches for winter orders. Both crops failed and orders for baskets fell off."

Whitlock said he still thought the basket business could be made to pay, and thinks the plant down at Paducah should not be allowed to stand idle. Meanwhile the present market price of the 75-cent stock is three cents a share with no takers.

It was not known that the checks were forgeries until Doherty was notified of an overdraft. Albert Doherty, a son of Joseph Doherty, has been arrested on the charge of forging the checks.

RABBIT SCALPS IN TRADE

In Western Kansas They Are Exchanged for Groceries.

Did you ever hear of rabbit scalps being rated as an article of commerce or as a medium of exchange in the same manner as eggs and butter? Out in Trego county, Kan., the county seat of which is Wakeeney, the merchants pay 5 cents each for rabbit scalps, no matter whether the unfortunate "bunny" was full grown or not. W. J. Williams, who is the proprietor of a grocery store in Wakeeney, bought 2,840 scalps during the months of March, April and May this year. John Keraus, another merchant of the same place, bought 2,760 scalps, while no merchant in the little town paid for less than 500 scalps.

The farmers and ranchmen bring rabbit scalps to the county stores along with eggs and butter. The grocer accepts and counts them with no more ado than if they were so many eggs.

A few years ago Trego county, in the hope of exterminating the troublesome jackrabbits, decided to pay a bounty of 5 cents for rabbit scalps, the money to be paid whenever the scalps were presented at the county treasurer's office. Soon after men who had never before been seen in Wakeeney came to the court house with big sacks of scalps. Finally the county commissioners grew suspicious, and it eventually developed that certain residents of neighboring counties were taking advantage of Trego's bounty law and were bringing scalps from as far away as fifty miles.

To discourage this practice the county decided to allow payment for the scalps not more often than every three months. Three months was a long time to wait. The hunters became impatient at the long delay. It remained for the merchants to solve the difficulty. Accordingly it was announced through the columns of the weekly papers that rabbit scalps would be taken at the grocery stores in exchange for merchandise, provided the owner of the scalps would give his word that they were taken from rabbits killed in Trego county.

The plan proved a success. Instead of the farmers making a weekly trip to the court house, the merchants reported every three months at the commissioners' office and the bills were allowed.

During the months of March, April and May the total amount of bills allowed by the commissioners for rabbit scalps was $568. In other words, Trego county killed 13,300 rabbits during the three months.—Kansas City Star.

Simple Home Receipt for Kidney, Bladder and Rheumatic Troubles That Beats All the Patent Medicines.

Go to your druggist and ask for: Concentrated Barkola Compound, 1 ounce; Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, ½ ounce; Aromatic Elixir, 4 ounces.

Mix them up and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. As soon as the backache, bowel pain, headache and tired feeling have left you, do not throw away any of the remedy that may be left in the bottle, but reduce the dose to two teaspoonfuls daily and continue until it is all gone. By following this suggestion you will help to strengthen your Kidneys and Bladder, a wise thing to do, for these organs are so delicate that they really should be given a few days invigorating treatment even after every symptom of special disease has disappeared.

NOTICE.

To the People of Paducah. All persons in Paducah must hold themselves responsible for any weakness or suffering caused from old age, chronic coughs or colds, bronchitis, weak lungs, run-down conditions, stomach troubles, nervousness or poor blood when we are willing to sell them the real cod liver preparation, Vinol, and return their money if it does not benefit.

The reason Vinol is so successful in restoring health and creating strength is because it contains in addition to tonic from all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without oil or grease to upset the stomach and retard its work.

Unlike old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, it is deliciously palatable, agreeable to the weakest stomach, therefore, unequalled as a strength creator and tonic reconstructor.

Our local druggist, W. B. McPherson, says: "It is because we know so well of what Vinol is made that we ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person in Paducah, and every person suffering from stubborn colds, hanging-on coughs, bronchitis or incipient consumption to try Vinol on our guarantee." W. B. McPherson, Druggist, Paducah, Ky.

SHORT STAY

PACIFIC FLEET WILL RETURN AFTER NINETY DAYS.

Fourteen Thousand Mile Run Back Undertaken as Soon as May Be.

Washington, Oct. 25.—It was learned here that President Roosevelt has no idea of leaving Admiral Evans' fleet in the Pacific but intends to order its return within ninety days of its arrival on the California coast.

One important conclusion is to be drawn from this. It is now published that the fleet will return almost as soon as the great ships can be cleaned up, replenished with supplies of coal and provisions, and be otherwise made completely ready for the 14,000 mile return cruise. The conclusion is that the executive feels absolutely no apprehension respecting the possibility of war with Japan.

FRANKLIN COUNTY CORRUPT ELECTIONS

"By the time this paper goes to press the election will be nearly over, and if it is carried on out in the state as it is in this city, may God save the country. The Beckham followers, who pose as reformers and more holy than thou people are the debauchers of the ballot box in this city. There has been a wholesale buying of votes here and an attempt to vote negroes that were not even registered as Democrats. All the ward heelers about town were busy as bees. If this policy is carried on generally in the state the grand old Democratic party is in bad hands. We do not know how it is in other places, but it is to be hoped that this the capital city is the only place in the state, where bribery in elections goes unpunished, where votes are bought openly. As it is done here only by the friends of Gov. Beckham, we wonder if he has not promised to pardon all his friends who are election offenders."—Frankfort Call.

An Indisputable Judge.

Signor Carducci, the great Italian poet, who has recently died, came near having a duel one day, according to a writer in "Le Ori de Paris." He possessed a fine spirit of contradiction and had the characteristics of a fighter. Once when traveling in Lombardy he was in a railway compartment with an army officer who did not recognize him. Conversation turned upon the latest literary productions. They spoke of a poem by the author of "Odes Barbares," which had just appeared.

"This Carducci," exclaimed the officer with enthusiasm, "is a superb genius! The greatest since Dante, the equal of Dante himself."

"Humph," responded the other. "A genius! That's too much to say. I find him mediocre."

"Mediocre, sir? You don't know anything about it."

"Oh, you are incapable of judging."

"You!"

"Sir!"

"Sir!"

The officer handed his card to the disputant.

The other smiled. "There's mine." On it was the name "Giosue Carducci, professor at the University of Bologna."

The officer, removing his hat, bowed politely, and then both men laughed.—Youth's Companion.

THEATRICAL NOTES

"What Women Will Do."

It is not a very far cry, from Charles Dickens to melodrama when you come to think of it, and there need be no surprise consequently upon the announcement that "What Women Will Do," which comes to the Kentucky tonight, is based upon the story of David Copperfield. Wilkins Micawber, Rosa Dottie, Emily, Peggotty and Uriah Heep will be the leading characters. The play is announced as one of the novelties of the season, possessing both strength and interest. The scenic effects are elaborate in the extreme. The comedy element introduced by the Micawber family, especially the two oldest children, Wilkins, Jr., and Ella, is ex-cruciatingly funny, and elicits applause and laughter at every performance.

FOOTBALL DOPE.

HOCH IN WASHINGTON TO BOOST RELATIVE TO BENCH.

He and Senator Curtis will call upon President Roosevelt today. Senator Long also arrived and may accompany them to the white house. The governor intimated that a special session of the Kansas legislature may be necessary to scale down the tax levies under the new tax law.

Oklahoma politicians arriving today included Judge Hainer, who wants to be judge of the western district; Marshal G. H. Witte, District Attorney T. B. Latham and Deputy Clerk George Smith, of the central district; W. H. Harrison, of Poteau, and Sam Downing, of Atoka.

Got What He Asked For.

A distinguished professor of bacteriology, wishing to study infected meats, went into a butcher shop and asked the butcher if he had any meaty pork.

"No, no, sir!" answered the indignant man. "All our meats are fresh—first class!"

"I'm sorry. Could—couldn't you in some way procure me some?"

"Why, yes; if that's the kind you want."

A few days later the professor stepped into the shop.

"I came in to see if you had secured that meaty pork for me!"

"Why, yes, sir. Didn't you get it? I had it sent up for your dinner last night."—October Lippincott's.

Twinn Sisters, Hale and Hearty at 73

Mrs. Emma Shively and Mrs. Belle Beatty, twin sisters, who are now 73 years of age, enjoy health and strength, and seldom have an ache or pain, thanks to the God-given medicine, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Mrs. Emma Shively resides at Big Clifty, Ky., and Mrs. Belle Beatty at Louisville, Ky. The illustration is taken from late photographs and shows how bright and vigorous they both are.

MRS. EMMA SHIVELY AND MRS. BELLE BEATTY, TWIN SISTERS, 73 YEARS OLD.

"I am in my 73d year and preserve my health and keep my strength up by using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Have been using it for several years. As a tonic for old age I consider it without an equal."—MRS. EMMA SHIVELY, Big Clifty, Ky., Feb. 28th, 1907.

"Before I began the use of your Duffy's Malt Whiskey last May I was so run down and nervous I could not walk a square; after taking several bottles I became strong and felt better than I did for years, so I have been using it ever since, and I now seldom ever have an ache or a pain. I am 73 years old."—MRS. BELLE BEATTY, 1731 15th St., Louisville, Ky.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ of the seed and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a pale malt, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances renders it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

If you wish to keep young, strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions. It is dangerous to fill your system with drugs. They poison the body and depress the heart, while Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is recognized as a medicine everywhere. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has been analyzed and tested by chemists for the past fifty years, and has always been found absolutely pure and to contain great medicinal properties.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is the one absolutely pure medicinal whiskey and is sold only in sealed bottles—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice free. ALDERMEN HOLD ROUTINE SESSION

Street Car Fender Ordinance Given It's Quiet

Discuss Garbage Incinerating Plant and Refer Matter to Special Committee.

SOME SANITARY QUESTIONS

One hour was consumed last night by the board of aldermen in regular session. Business all routine, a ratification of the principal business of the council.

President Palmer and Alderman Baker were absent.

Alderman Chamblin was unanimously elected chairman pro tem.

Minutes of the last regular meeting were adopted.

Mayor Yeiser presented a bill from C. L. Dunlap for $20 for plastering at Riverside hospital, which was allowed.

An Incinerating Plant.

Mayor Yeiser suggested to let a contract for burning sanitary garbage, or to build an incinerating plant to destroy garbage. The board referred the matter to a special committee to act at once. Chairman Chamblin appointed the sanitary committee.

Mayor Yeiser was instructed to advertise for bids for city coal for the next year, the present contract having expired.

Miscellaneous Business.

A petition asking that a right-of-way over Second street from Jefferson street to Broadway not be granted to the Southern Electric railroad, as it would interfere with shipping, was presented by merchants. It was received and filed.

Several prayers for relief from overassessment, and alleged erroneous assessment, were referred to the tax book supervisors.

Petitions for extension of water mains were referred to the Paducah Water company.

Several deeds to lots in Oak Grove cemetery were ratified.

A report from Health Officer W. T. Graves saying that unsanitary conditions at Eleventh and Jefferson streets, and at the canning factory, have been remedied, but that it was nearly impossible to maintain perfect sanitary conditions at the canning factory because of inadequate sewerage service. The report was received and filed.

The report of a special committee, saying that the city is not responsible for imperfections in sewerage at Mr. Herman Friedman's residence, on Broadway near Twelfth street, was filed.

Andrew Hall threatened to sue the city for a sewer being run through his property on Plunkett Hill. The committee and city engineer reported that the sewer does not go through Hall's property.

Petitions for street lights in various parts of the city were referred to the board of public works.

Will Reynolds was refunded $75 paid into the city treasury for a coffee house license application which he withdrew.

A report recommending that no passageway be opened over private railroad property from the Illinois Central shops to Clark and Jackson streets was filed.

Extension of water mains on Salem avenue was reported by the water company, and fire hydrants ordered placed on the city rental list.

An ordinance fixing salaries of city officers for the next year was ordered drafted.

The suggestion to build a 20-foot driveway of gravel on the levee to save horses from injury was referred to the street committee.

Recommendations to purchase 20 sewer manhole caps from Thomas Bridges Sons, at a less cost than the city has been bearing for them, were favorably acted on.

A street light was ordered strung at Nineteenth and Broadway.

Finance Report.
The finance committee's report of salaries, accounts, etc., for the first half month, was adopted.

Ordinances.
Resolution releasing the Aetna Indemnity company as bondsman for the People's Home Telephone company, now out of existence. First reading. The rule was suspended and the resolution given second reading.

Ordinance requiring every street car operated within the city limits to be provided with fenders. Penalties for a violation are from $5 to $10 for each offense.

Alderman Hubbard thought that such an expense should not be heaped on the Paducah Traction company, as it seemed to him to be a useless expense, because traffic was not so congested at present that pedestrians are in danger. He cited vast expenditures of the traction company in the past, and of the great expense the company is even now laboring under. He also stated the ordinance did not specify what kind of fenders should be installed.

The ordinance was killed by a full vote.

The ordinance fixing salaries of city employees and officials for next year was reported incomplete, and the committee was given more time.

Alderman Hannan stated that he favored leaving some high salaried

THE TRUTH ABOUT CLOTHES

Is that they must be of good quality or they are expensive at any price. The material as well as the tailoring must be right or the clothes will not give the service you have a right to expect. Our showing of $15 Suits, Overcoats and Raincoats fulfills these requirements to a nicety. The style, the gingery patterns, the good tailoring, which young men like, are there, yet the price is only $15, for when you buy here you don't pay out your good money for a pretty label--it goes in the clothes. :: :: :: :: :: :: :: :: :: ::

officials' salaries at present figures and raising pay of poor laborers who get but $1.50 per day for street work. He thought that time and care should be taken in drafting this ordinance.

Routine.

A prayer of Mrs. John Lane against an overassessment of property at Tenth and Clay streets, was referred to the tax book supervisors.

Alderman Smith stated that traffic about the market is often congested by injudicious driving. He suggested an ordinance compelling all vehicles north-bound to take the right hand side, towards the river; and those south-bound to take the west side of the market. This will compel some drivers to drive around the block, but in the long run it will save time, Alderman Smith believes.

Alderman Hannan thought that such an ordinance would be illegal since the street is a public thoroughfare. He was in favor of relieving any congestion, but did not believe the city could enforce such a rule or ordinance.

Such an ordinance was ordered. Solicitor Campbell stated that such an ordinance would be "perfectly valid under police regulation," drafted.

On motion the board adjourned.

RECEIVER

OF WATERS-PIERCE OIL COMPANY IS SUSTAINED.

Company Has Fifteen Days in Which to Ask for Rehearing of the Case.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 25.--The third court of civil appeals today affirmed the receivership case against the Waters-Pierce Oil company, sustaining the district court in the appointment of Robert J. Eckhardt as receiver and proper. The oil company has fifteen days within which to ask for a rehearing, during which no move can be made by the state. It will be refused and there will be two receivers Charles B. Dorchester, appointed by Federal Judge Bryan at Sherman, who is acting.

The state appealed from Judge Bryant's order, and the United States circuit court of appeals will hear it at Fort Worth on November 4. Today's action is expected to strengthen the state's hand, as Judge Bryant refused a motion of the state to vacate the order appointing Dorchester, stating it was without prejudice and that he would entertain other pleas and motions by the state when a state court of final resort rendered a decision in the receivership litigation in the state court. This happened today, as the appellate courts have final jurisdiction of receivership matters in Texas.

The oil company can appeal only to the United States supreme court on writ of error to be allowed either by the chief justice of the appellate court deciding today's case or by a justice of the court at Washington.

Only one issue can be pleaded, that of a federal question being involved.

If the federal courts in Texas refuse relief the appellate court may attempt to enforce its jurisdiction and order Dorchester to surrender and Eckhardt to take charge. This would bring on conflict between state and federal courts unless Judge Bryant bows to the appellate court, the state having first appointed its receivers requiring original jurisdiction.

AMERICAN FLAG HISSED IN A HAVANA THEATER.

Havana, Oct. 25.--Thirty bandits are still disturbing the peace in the Sancti Spiritus district, Santa Clara province, and the authorities are endeavoring to effect the capture of the leaders. In other districts the outlaws are surrendering. The anti-American feeling in Havana is growing. The authorities have doubled the guard over the army store houses and other American property. The stars and stripes are hissed at the National theater, and Maurice Raymond, a prestidigitator, was fined $50 because he demonstrated with the audience for doing so.

PIETY OR PIE?

Did the whole success of the local issues depend upon The Sun's stooping to the detestable practice of slinging mud at the personnel of the opposite ticket, it should not be done;

and when the election is past it can truthfully be said that Tom Harrison's private character has passed through the campaign unscathed by any word of ours. What The Sun may have said about his official record, The Sun stands by, as having the right to criticize. In reference to his qualifications or disqualifications for the office, to which he aspires, The Sun owes the duty to its public to be frank.

Were Tom Harrison of so degenerate a type as to make his moral character an issue, we might be moved, though reluctantly, to lay bare the facts; but otherwise, we have a too keen sense of our own moral shortcomings to be caught by charitable toward our erring fel-lowing such cruel assertions against him. How far short of the reaching the true heights of Tom's virtue the News-Democrat may have fallen in its efforts, or how greatly overestimated may be its summing up of his moral attributes, a public that has become acquainted with him during his sojourn in Paducah, is quite capable of judging.

On the other hand, James P. Smith—Jim Smith, if you please—has been coming and going before these same people all his life. They know him—and they know the News-Democrat, and knowing the latter, they may expect it at some convenient future season to reverse its estimate of Mr. Smith, too, and in that same unctious spirit of conscious communion with a soul that rises above the sordid things of American municipal politics, lead us gently into the sanctuary of Mr. Smith's inner life, and there reveal to us spiritual beauties no less enthralling than those it has, within a twelvemonth, discovered in Tom Harrison.

When J. H. Walters, the dairyman, paid The Sun to publish the official test of the product of his dairy, because the official publication did not seem to reach the public, The Sun felt gratified at the recognition of its influence; but when to this tribute the esteemed News-Democrat adds, with some show of warmth, that "The reputation of The Sun for veracity has become notorious," we almost wish the News-Democrat's circulation statement had as good warrant as the quality of Mr. Walters' milk.

THE LANDSLIDE IN THE STATE.

The people of Kentucky are in revolt, says the Louisville Herald. From every section of the state comes the tidings that there is a popular uprising against the Frankfort ring. Never in the history of the commonwealth has the situation looked more promising for the overthrow of the men who have exploited Democracy for their own ambitions than it does at this hour.

Willson gains in strength with every day. His manly appeal to the voters is meeting with enthusiastic support, and the leaders of the Beckham-Hager machine see the customary majorities which they have relied in former campaigns dwindling with alarming rapidity. The prospect of defeat has made them mad in their effort to stem the rising tide of support for the Republican ticket, and the devices of crazy men are being resorted to for the purpose of obtaining a hearing for their speakers, and if possible deluding a few more people into voting under the rooster.

The other day they issued a call for a meeting on the official note paper of the W. C. T. U., only to have the contemptible trick repudiated by that organization. At London Tuesday another fake was exposed, when a man, who calls himself a preacher of the gospel, but by his descent to low political scheming demonstrates his unworthiness, appeared with the representation that he was an emissary of the Anti-Saloon League, commissioned to rally the ministers to the support of Hager. This "Rev." Luke P. V. Williams was called on his bluff and finally confessed that he had been employed by the machine to work the game, if possible.

Here in Louisville personal letters are being written from campaign headquarters by the Democratic managers to individuals at the various points where speakings have been arranged, urging them to attend. Even with these methods it is impossible to get crowds to hear Hager that approach in numbers those with which Willson is being greeted wherever he goes.

Much has been said about the confederate vote, and strenuous denial has been made by the Democrats that Willson would get any considerable support of this element. The fact remains that at meeting after meeting Willson has had as his chairman a confederate soldier, and has been cheered by hundreds of them in his audiences.

This is not a party fight. It is the fight of the people. They have taken the battle into their own hands, and they are going to teach the Frankfort ring the severest lesson that it ever had to learn in its life. It is a fight for Kentucky as against the gang, and Willson has been chosen, not only by the Republicans, but by thousands of Democrats to put the banner of good government upon the battlements at Frankfort.

If the issue was for or against saloons in Paducah, and Tom Harrison was not for them, every man, woman and child in Paducah knows the News-Democrat could not afford to be for him.

Wasn't it mean of Hal Corbett to go over to Mechanicsburg and call James P. Smith a "dude"? Maybe Hal thought when he got across Island creek, people wouldn't know him—and, maybe, Hal thought he was talking to a lot of suckers. By the way, County Attorney Alben Barkley made an allusion or two in his speech that shocked the modesty of some of his hearers.

The News-Democrat Thursday evening said, "Mr. Smith is the owner of five saloons." That statement is a falsehood.

E'en So.

Jinx—"Why do you eat at that lunch counter around the corner? They give you butterine, and the bread tastes of kerosene."

Spinx—"I know it, but the girl that serves there is a peachierine."

VOICE OF PEOPLE

To the Voters of Paducah.

The future of Paducah will be the reflection of its past; its growth is inherent and inevitable, whether we desire it or not. Therefore it is for us, as citizens, to direct the natural forces which are tending towards that certain result despite our recent failures. Paducah is a corporation civil and commercial, our attention should be devoted to the development of the character of the members of which it is composed, and in this way enhance the moral tone of the community of which we are an important factor. We want and should have a good, and vigorous municipal government, not bound by blue laws, nor honeycombed with vice and venality. We have many striking examples of men who have failed to lead this broader and truer life, and their examples have kindled a fire of almost universal unrest in our larger cities, which must be regarded with apprehension by even the most conservative. It is said by some the press of our city is not doing its full duty; it is the mouthpiece of our city and citizens. It should advise the people, it should not resort to ridicule for argument or abuse for reason. It is never below and rarely above the average standard of morality of the people it serves.

So it is with our public officials. It is a false notion of any community to suppose that its people are better than those who represent them in public life. If our officials betray their trust it is a sin of commission but the sin of those who elect them is that of omission, which is the least pardonable of the two. Seventy-five per cent of the people of Paducah prefer law and order to crime and immorality, but too frequently the 75 per cent are too much engrossed in business pursuits and neglect the simple but imperative duties of citizenship, while the smaller fraction of the people are active and energetic in the quest for public spots and jobs. Too frequently the smaller fraction wins. A man who will live in this or any other community, receiving police and fire protection, with the right to resort to courts for the security of his person and property, and at the same time does not give a full share of his thought, time and substance to the well-being of the community in which he lives is not a desirable citizen, and should be deprived of his citizenship, which he has no warrant either to neglect or abuse. Our government has no excuse for existence except to protect the weak against the aggression of the strong. What Paducah needs is more civic pride and a sane and well directed sentiment, without which no city can hope to be great in the broadest sense. It may be a Utopian dream, nevertheless I believe that J. P. Smith, with the assistance of his council, can and will bring an era of prosperity to Paducah hitherto unknown. The mayor should have his own council if you would hold him responsible for his promise to the people, he has but one-third of the law-making power and the general council two-thirds. Smith's character challenges criticism, his life is an open book in this city, and every page has been written here. I have examined it from youth to manhood, questioning his playmates and associates, all agree that he is honorable, has the courage of his conviction, and competent in every way to fill the office to which he aspires. Since it is a foregone conclusion that he will be elected mayor, it is time that you begin to examine the personnel and the records of the council to serve with him, as most of the candidates of both tickets have records in the council chamber.

PROHIBITION QUESTION

Must Be Settled in Politics, Says President Folk.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 25.—The annual convention of the Tennessee Anti-Saloon League convened yesterday at Centenary Methodist Episcopal church, the first session being at 2 o'clock, in the auditorium of the church, Dr. E. E. Folk, of Nashville, presiding. Dr. J. A. Baylor, pastor of Centenary, delivered the address of welcome, in the course of which he took the ground that the question of prohibition must be settled in the field of politics, or not at all.

Bad Caren Acquired.

Amite City, La., Oct. 25.—The jury at 7 o'clock last night, after three hours' deliberation, acquitted Bud Caren of the murder of Eugene H. McClellan at Kentwood. The killing was a very sensational affair. McClellan being shot down while standing in front of his livery stable. Hines Hughes, also charged with the same murder, was acquitted recently.

ILLINOIS PUBLISHERS WANT CHEAPER PAPER.

Congressman Snapp was present and pledged himself to support the measure. He scolded the newspapers for not advancing the price of their paper in view of the immense advance in the cost of labor, material and other commodities.

Tonight the newspaper men were entertained at a banquet at the state penitentiary here. The association includes in its membership the daily papers in all cities of 5,000 or over in the state except Chicago.

INVESTIGATE OSTEOPATHY.

It is a New Diagnosis, a New Cure, Apply Called "The Sane Treatment of Disease."

Osteopathy is a method of bloodless surgical manipulations to remove any obstructions interfering with the proper transference of nerve force, or the natural flow of the blood, or the other fluids, to the organ, or part involved.

It liberates the inherent vital forces of the body—the forces which, when allowed their full and unobstructed sway, have the power to gain and maintain a state of physiological equilibrium or health. In other words, allow nature to effect her own cures by a natural adjustment of any disorder in the system.

The power to heal is innate and inherent, and cannot be introduced from without, and Osteopathy cures by assisting and bringing into action that power. The taking of drugs does not add anything useful to the body—on the contrary, the effects are largely manifestations of the efforts on the part of Nature to eject and rid itself of the drugs, while the loss of energy following is nothing but the further robbing of an already lowered vitality.

Osteopathy is especially effective in cases of liver, stomach and bowel disorders to which Paducah people are sufferers, and I should like to tell you briefly how, and why, I can cure them so easily, if you will call.

Pretty Wedding at Savannah, Tenn.
A press dispatch from Savannah, Tenn., says: "One of the most beautiful and elaborate home weddings ever solemnized in this place was the marriage of Archibald Ulysses Walker and Miss Annie Churchill Wednesday morning, the groom and bride being representatives of prominent and wealthy families. The ushers were Arch Williams and Charlie Gillock. After them came Miss Lillie Patterson with Ernest Churchill, Miss Jennie Kerr of Giles county, with Will Ross, and the bride and groom followed with the officiating minister."

The bride is popular in Paducah, where she has frequently visited. She is a sister of Mrs. Charles Baker, who attended the wedding.

Brilliant Reception to Mrs. Riker.

An exceptionally beautiful function was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rudy in honor of their house guest, Mrs. Letcher Riker, of Harrodsburg, last evening from 8:30 until 11 o'clock. The handsome Rudy home on Kentucky avenue is most attractive in its ensemble and made an effective background for the charming details of the floral decorations. The rooms were crowded with guests during the hours.

In the reception hall ferns were arranged in graceful profusion. The only flowers were the white and yellow Japanese chrysanthemums in unusual beauty.

The parlor was a bower of ferns and palms, with gorgeous chrysanthemums of the white and yellow effectively interspersed. The mantel was a bank of tropical ferns. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Rudy and Mrs. Riker here were: The Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D., Mrs. Edmund M. Post, Mr. Charles F. Riecke, Mrs. Elbridge Palmer, Mrs. Mildred Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Lillard Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Riecke, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, Miss Claribel Riecke.

At the entrance to the dining room were Mrs. Armour Gardner and Miss Anna Webb. This room was a charming symphony in yellow, white and green, the colors of the Paducah Woman's club. The highly polished table was only partially veiled with lace center-piece and doilies. In the center was a graceful basket effect of yellow chrysanthemums on a bed of ferns and springara. Tall colonial candelabrum of brass with chrysanthemum trimmed yellow shades were at each end. The cut glass bonbonniers held yellow mints, and huge bows of yellow ribbon were pendant from the center chandelier. The delightful course luncheon emphasized the yellow, white and green motif in all of the details. Receiving in the dining room were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kiger, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brinkhurst, Miss Retta Hatfield.

In the library across the hall, punch was served. This room, which is finished in red, was given a brilliant autumnal touch in its artistic arrangement. The punch bowl was almost concealed in a bower of autumn leaves and trailing vines with pendant clusters of grapes from the dark red to the palest green. Crystallized grapes were served with the punch from an artistic epergne. Mrs. Thomas C. Leech presided at the punch bowl most graciously. Assisting her were: Mrs. Charles James, of Evansville; Mrs. Hughes McKnight, Miss Cora Lee Wortham, of Hugo, I. T.; Miss Nella Hatfield, Miss Manie Cobb, Mrs. Fred Rudy and Mrs. Julia McCuen stood in the hall between the library and dining room.

Mrs. Riker made a most delightful impression on all. She is the president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's clubs and is a most brilliant and gracious woman. It was her first visit to Paducah. She had met a number of the Paducah club women at Shelbyville last June though, and several Paducahans had been her pupils at Daughters College in Harrodsburg, with which she had been connected for a number of years. Mrs. Riker wore a handsome reception toilette of black lace. Mrs. James Rudy was gowned in white lace over white.

IN THE COURTS

In Circuit Court.

One judgment was filed in circuit court this morning, other business being routine, the hearing of demurrers and setting of cases and motions.

In the suit of Flora against John Hughes a judgment for divorce was entered.

The Hugh Boyle Case.

Circuit Judge W. M. Reed yesterday afternoon heard evidence and argument in the three appeals from police court made by the defense in the case of the city of Paducah against Hugh Boyle for selling liquor when his license had been revoked. Judge Reed has the case under consideration and has not announced when he will render an opinion. From the bench he stated that it was his intention to prepare a written opinion that would cover the cases thoroughly so that an appeal might immediately be taken.

In Police Court.

Police Judge D. A. Cross held an intermittent session of police court this morning. It was in session at intervals reaching from 9 o'clock until noon, and one defendant caused all the confusion.

Will Barton, a brakeman on the Illinois Central, was presented on four charges. One was for box car breaking, one for selling property not his own and two for petit larceny.

Barton was alleged to have stolen an overcoat from a railroad man, while they roomed at the same boarding house. He is also accused of having "lifted" an umbrella, and to have broken into the caboose of an Illinois Central conductor and stolen boots and a gum coat, later selling the gum goods to Mr. John Katterjohn.

All witnesses could not be on hand at once, and Judge Cross had to hear them as they came. He began the consolidated cases at 9:15 and heard the last one at noon, after holding a half dozen separate sessions. Barton was held over on each of the four charges.

Other cases: Arthur Bedlow, colored, drunkenness, $1 and costs; William Brown, drunk, $5 and costs.

More than two years ago Mr. George Rutter left home and his whereabouts during all that long time has been unknown to any of his friends or relatives. His was a peculiar notion to do such a way but was in the keeping of expressed wishes. A letter was received this week by his parents who live in the Good Hope section, bringing glad news to them that he is still alive and in good health and also stating briefly his wanderings since leaving home. The letter was dated September 2, 1907, at Manila, Philippine Islands. He joined the United States army at Birmingham, Ala., and went immediately to the Philippines.—Livingston Echo.

THE CRISIS OVER IN FINANCE WORLD

Millions Poured Into Channels of Banking.

Brokers Gather in Exchange and Give Three Cheers for J. Pierpont Morgan.

ROOSEVELT FULLY INFORMED.

New York, Oct. 25.—As a result of yesterday's developments in the financial world, there is every indication that the crisis in the banking and trust company situation has been safely passed. The Trust Company of America, all through yesterday's banking hours, paid out money to depositors as rapidly as possible and closed today with all demands having been met.

By far the most noticeable, even dramatic, episode of the day was the emptying of millions of money into the stock exchange through a pool headed by J. Pierpont Morgan and other financiers, in order to avert ruthless selling out of stocks held by brokers, which was threatened because of their inability to obtain renewals of loans in which these stocks had been carried.

The remarkable condition which brought about this extreme stringency, was that certain large interests of great financial resources had been charging recently what was, in effect, if not legally, usurious rates of interest on call loans.

One institution that had been engaged in this practice was itself a member of the clearing-house and was severely criticised by the other banks for its actions, on the ground that this added unnecessary complication and strain on the money situation. As a result of the criticism this institution withdrew its support and declined to offer money on call on the stock exchange. The effect of this was to run the rate of money today up to 100 per cent and when that figure was quoted, an extremely sharp decline resulted in the stock market. Union Pacific, 10 per cent stock held down to par.

At the time excitement was at its height, announcement was made that a pool had been formed, with J. P. Morgan at its head, to come to the rescue of the brokers, for it was necessary to provide funds at once in order that they might carry the stocks they were holding for their customers.

The effect of the relief measure was instantaneous, and the rate on call money dropped from 100 per cent to 10 per cent; when the stock exchange closed every one was netting all the money he wanted.

The close was marked by a memorable scene in which the brokers gathered around the principal trading posts and gave three cheers for J. Pierpont Morgan and members of the pool which had saved the day.

The aggregate amount of money which had been contributed to weather the storm and restore confidence, estimated truly colossal proportions, estimated it includes $25,000,000 which yesterday Cortelyou deposited in New York banks; $25,000,000 which the Morgan pool brought to the floor; $10,000,000 which John D. Rockefeller deposited with the Union Trust company and finally another $50,000,000 which it is understood Mr. Rockefeller stood ready to advance to meet any further stress of conditions; in all, considerably in excess of $100,000,000.

Crisis Is Over.

Washington, Oct. 25.—President Roosevelt was today thoroughly informed regarding the financial condition in Wall street and Pittsburg, and is understood to regard the crisis as over, and also to approve of the measures of relief which Secretary Cortelyou afforded both cities. Both Senator Knox and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Edwards received direct information from Pittsburg by telephone today which was of a most reassuring character.

Secretary Garfield reported to the president today that the western bankers have gradually been divorcing themselves from Wall street influences until they are now practically independent of them.

INSURANCE MAN

CONVICTED OF PERJURY IN COURT OF NEW YORK.

Dr. W. G. Gillette, Found Guilty in Connection With Mutual Life Exposure.

New York, Oct. 25.—The first conviction on the cases based on the disclosures in the legislative investigation of insurance affairs in 1905-06, was obtained by the district attorney's office last night when the jury in the criminal branch of the supreme court found Dr. Walter R. Gillette, former vice president of the Mutual Life insurance company, guilty of perjury in the third degree. The verdict was accompanied with a recommendation for mercy. The maximum penalty for this degree of perjury is ten years' imprisonment.

Upon report of the jury, the counsel for Dr. Gillette moved for a certificate of reasonable doubt and the arrest of judgment. Justice Dowling announced that he would hear the motion next Monday and in the meantime remanded Dr. Gillette to the Tombs.

Dr. Gillette is sixty-seven years of age and is well known in medicine practice. He was born in Philadelphia. The specific charge upon which Dr. Gillette was found guilty, was that he had testified falsely before the grand jury on May 24, at which time he was vice president of the Mutual.

The indictment alleged that at that time under examination by District Attorney Jerome, he stated that certain moneys in the Dobbs Ferry bank were his personal funds and that subsequently under cross examination he admitted the funds were the property of the Mutual life.

"The Blood Is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought can be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Purify impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood, thereby curing pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 603 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Boss Dorsey And the Babies.

By EDWIN J. WEBSTER.

Copyright by Edwin J. Webster

In Two Chapters.

CHAPTER II.

But the patience of the exasperated boss at last gave way.

"You think," he thundered. "Well, I think there has been too much fuss made about that pier. It won't be built. The babies need it! D-n the babies anyway! They can't vote!"

"All right," replied Harry cheerfully, "if that's the way you feel about it, there's no need of saying any more."

Accompanied by the reporter, he hurried out of the office, for he had obtained exactly the statement he wanted. Any modification of it would only weaken his position.

The Express was one of the bitterest opponents of the rule of Dorsey. In the hall Jack Whitney looked gleefully at Harry Wendell.

"D-n the babies! They can't vote!" murmured the newspaper man. "What a headline! Oh, but in a little while Mr. Dorsey will be sorry he spoke that way. The Express will have an extra on the street in half an hour. Won't that D-n the babies! please the Tenth ward, where there are about a hundred to each tenement?"

"That's all right as far as it goes," replied Wendell, "but we want to put Dorsey in a position where he can't deny having said it. I'll draw up an affidavit corroborating it. Then we can get affidavits from Mr. Mann and others who talked with Dorsey this morning. If the Express will publish these, it will make our case stronger."

"If the Express will publish them," answered the newspaper man. "If I know how Mr. Rogers feels about Dorsey, I think they will be double leaded, with three column headlines. You get the affidavits, and I'll hurry back to the office and be writing the story."

"We'll get out an extra," said the managing editor to Whitney, "but we might as well wait and get the affidavits, too, so as to have a complete story. You were the only reporter present? Then none of the other papers can come out ahead of us."

"And I'll send a man over to see McManis," broke in the city editor. "Jones, run down to McManis' place and ask him if Dorsey is going to do anything about the recreation pier. Don't tell him we have other interviews on the subject. Just get him to state, if you can, in the strongest terms possible that Dorsey says they can't have the pier. Telephone in what he says, for we want it for an extra."

By the time Whitney had finished writing his account of the Dorsey interview the affidavits had arrived at the Express office, and Jones had telephoned in the interview with McManis. That worthy, ignorant of the steps which were being taken to disturb Mr. Dorsey's peace of mind, had spoken in strenuous terms. Not that McManis had any intention of breaking from the organization, but his heart had been set on getting the recreation pier, and he had brooded over the refusal of the morning. The city editor read the account that Whitney had written and after marking it "double lead" sent it to the composing room.

"It looks sensational," observed the city editor, "but it is a big story. I guess when the copies of the paper begin to come into the Tenth ward there really will be a sensation."

A few minutes later the newsboys were calling out:

"Extra! Extra! All about Boss Dorsey and the babies!"

"Better send a lot of copies over to the Tenth ward," said the managing editor. "I wouldn't wonder if they would interest McManis."

And the paper did interest McManis. He was sitting in his little back room when Tim Collins, his most trusted lieutenant, entered. Tim was excited.

"Have you seen the Express?" he cried, thrusting a copy of the paper at McManis. "Why, Dorsey must have been crazy to say such a thing. And I see you are quoted there too. Are you going to break from the party?"

"What do you mean?" retorted McManis angrily. "What's Dorsey been saying, and what are you talking about my breaking with the party?" There'll be something else broken if you don't take that back."

But Tim Collins stood undaunted.

"Look for yourself," he replied. "It's all over the ward. The women are wild about it. I'd have thought it a fake put up by the reformers if it hadn't been for your name and those affidavits. Dorsey's killed himself in this ward."

McManis was eagerly scanning the paper.

"They've got what I said to that reporter about right, although I didn't think I put it so strong. And I didn't know they had those other interviews and affidavits. It's a trick of that young Wendell to down Dorsey and to make a break in the Tenth ward if he can."

"He's done it all right, all right," asserted Tim Collins. "D-n the babies! There isn't a woman in the ward who will give her husband any peace until he's promised to vote against Dorsey. He's gone up, and so are we unless—"

"Unless what?" inquired McManis sharply.

"Unless we break away from him," answered Collins sullenly.

"Break from the party? I never thought to hear you say any such thing."

"Young Wendell must have put up the job to get Dorsey in a hole," declared McManis angrily. "And he's put Tom McManis and Tim Collins in just as bad a one."

"I'll stand by you, whatever you do," said Tim loyally. "But as Dorsey men-neither of us can get a job on a city wagon in the Tenth ward. There's too many babies."

And Tim Collins departed, cursing the folly of Dorsey.

The extra edition of the Express had been issued shortly after noon, and by 3 o'clock it seemed as if most of the men and every woman in the ward had seen a copy of the paper.

"To think of him saying that about the babies!" said Mrs. O'Neil, the mother of the fat Johnnie. "And the poor darlins almost perished with the heat. D-n the babies," because they can't vote, is it? Oh, but I wish the women had a vote. We'd show Mr. Dorsey what it meant."

And the sentiments of Mrs. O'Neil were forcibly echoed by all the women present.

All that afternoon the local benches of McManis visited his saloon. Each gloomily condemned the imprudence of Dorsey, and each, at first timidly and then more boldly, suggested to McManis that it was absolutely necessary for the Tenth ward to rebel against the rule of the boss. But McManis, bound by years of allegiance to the organization, hesitated to declare against it. Early that evening while he was discussing the situation with Tim Collins a message came stating that Dorsey desired to see both of them at the organization headquarters.

The message was a little peremptory and did not add to McManis' good humor. Still he and his lieutenant prepared to obey. A few yards from the saloon the Tenth ward politicians met Mrs. O'Neil, accompanied by pretty Mollie Grady, for whom Tim Collins had more than a faint affection.

"And did you see what Dorsey said about the babies?" asked Mrs. O'Neil, stopping McManis. "You're a good man, Mr. McManis, and we all like you and know you've done what you could to get the recreation pier and other things for the people in this ward, but good man that you are there are few votes you can control in the Tenth as long as you stick by that Dorsey."

"Well, Mrs. O'Neil," replied McManis, trying to placate the offended mother. "I'm loyal to my party, but you will find me looking out for the Tenth, my own ward, first."

A moment later he was rejoined by Tim Collins, who had stopped to speak to brown-eyed Mollie.

"I asked her if she would go to the picnic with me," observed Tim gloomily, "and she said, 'Are you a Dorsey man?' And I says, 'I suppose I am.' Says she, 'I'll go to no picnic with a fellow who backs up a man that curses little babies and says they can die of the heat.'"

The ward leader and his lieutenant looked doubtfully at each other. Then each understood. McManis called to Dorsey's messenger, who had been waiting across the street.

"You tell Mr. Dorsey," said McManis tersely, "that Tim and I are too busy to come now. After election we'll have more time."

Dorsey and his adherents were not men to sit quietly in the face of impending defeat. They worked desperately; the whole influence of the police and of city employees was thrown in favor of the organization. Yet each day it was evident the once invincible boss was losing ground. The defection of McManis and the formerly solid organization of the Tenth ward proved a heavy blow.

On election night the result was practically certain long before the totals were known. The uptown districts, as had been expected, voted against Dorsey. Then came scattering districts slightly in his favor. Then the result in the Tenth ward was announced. It was solidly against the boss. But when the districts in which the organization was strongest were counted Dorsey and his adherents gave up hope. Instead of an almost straight organization vote the returns in these districts showed small majorities which would fall far short of overcoming the vote in the antiorganization districts and the Tenth ward. Then Dorsey and his lieutenants gave up the fight and leaving the organization headquarters, sought a place where they could drown their grief and make plans for the future. Near headquarters Dorsey met Harry Wendell. The defeated leader looked at the young lawyer with a scowl.

The Latest News From Vienna.

The illness of the Emperor Francis Joseph occurs at an unfortunate time, from a political point of view, because the Ausgleich, or financial agreement between the Cisleithan and Hungarian Kingdoms, has not yet been ratified by their parliaments.

Under any circumstances the coming session of the Hungarian diet and of the Cisleithan or Austrian reichsrath will be fraught with unusual interest. The popular branch of the latter bicameral assembly will be the outcome of the new electoral system, which represents a close approach to universal suffrage and which becomes operative for the first time this year. Even when the members of the Austrian chamber of deputies were chosen under one of the most restricted and complicated of electoral systems it was frequently the scene of uproar and violence, and more than one cabinet has been upset, not by a formal vote of want of confidence, but by sheer inability to obtain a hearing. There is no reason to expect the new chamber to prove more accommodating for the socialists are stronger than they were before and the Czechs are as uncompromising as ever. The only faction which has been weakened materially, so far as the number of deputies controlled by it is concerned, is that which openly advocates the secession of such provinces as are mainly peopled with Germans from the Hapsburg realm and their incorporation with the German empire.

In Hungary the delay in granting universal suffrage has wrought to exasperation the non-Magyar elements of the Kingdom's population, who constitute a majority, and no fewer than 150,000 delegates from 177 towns are said to have arrived in Budapest to take part in the demonstration planned by the socialists for October 10. The demonstration was apparently superfluous, for the Hungarian prime minister, Count Andrássy, deeply impressed by the preceding agitation and aware that the electoral change was favored by the court of Vienna, announced on October 9 that he would forthwith introduce in the table of deputies a bill providing for universal suffrage. If a measure so that effect would meet with the approval of Francis Joseph it is because there then would be at least a chance of holding the Magyars in check, though by reason of their solidarity and ability they may succeed in dominating an assembly in which they will constitute numerically only a minority. Hitherto the Slavs, Rumanians and all the other non-Magyar people represented in the popular chamber—except the Croats, for whom a special provision is made—have been in practice so nearly disfranchised that even when taken together they could muster only an insignificant number of spokesmen. Of course, it does not follow because Count Andrássy has promised to propose fundamental changes in electoral methods that a bill to that effect can be carried through a chamber wherein the Magyars have an overwhelming ascendancy. The demonstration arranged for October 10 was doubtless intended to affect not only the present coalition ministry, but also the attitude of the table of deputies during the coming session.

For some years past the intimidation of even an indisposition on the part of the Emperor Francis Joseph has sufficed to fix the eyes of every European statesman on Vienna. It is literally true that nothing but the respect and affection with which the aged sovereign is regarded by his subjects—their attachment is due to the genuine kindness and democratic simplicity of his bearing—would have availed to avert the disintegration of the disjointed Cisleithan kingdom. Among the heterogeneous peoples represented in the lower house of the Austrian reichsrath there is no community of interest but the general willingness to obey the present Hapsburg ruler. It by no means follows that they will testify the same loyalty to his successor, who on the contrary is already an object of popular aversion.

If it has been hard to hold together the ill-compacted Cisleithan monarchy, it has been even more difficult to prevent Austria and Hungary from flying at each other. Nothing could have brought about the semi-union of 1867 but the panic into which the emperor-king and all his subjects were thrown by Prussia's victory at Sadowa, which might easily have been followed by the occupation of Vienna. As it was, Hungary exacted and secured absolute self-government, except as regards the three departments in the army, the navy and foreign affairs, to the appropriations for which she is thought by the inhabitants of the sister kingdom to contribute much less than her due share. Every ten years the renewal of the Ausgleich has been attended with delays and disputes. Especially is this true of the Ausgleich just concluded; and there are few onlookers who do not fear that it will be the last.—New York Sun.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now 83 years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by all druggists, 50c.

LEST WE Forget—Baby is restless, can't sleep at night, won't eat, cries spasmodically. A bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge never fails to cure. So many times when the baby is pale and fretful, the mother does not know what to do. A bottle of this medicine would bring color to his cheeks and laughter to his eyes. Give it a trial. Sold by J. Military Training in the Public Schools.

Military training for boys in our public schools should interest not only our foremost educators but all who have the welfare of the republic at heart. The standing army of the United States is so vastly disproportionate to its size, its population and its importance as a world power that the nation's chief reliance in time of war must ever be its volunteer soldiery. That the school boy of today is the volunteer of tomorrow was amply demonstrated during the war with Spain, when splendid service was rendered, both as officers and in the ranks, by men who had received a knowledge of soldiering at some of the many educational institutions, public and private, which include military training in their curriculum.

In these days military operations are conducted with such celerity that there is scarce time to whip an army of raw recruits into shape to withstand the trained and seasoned troops of, say, an old-world power. How much better fitted to uphold the honor of the flag is the man who has had at least a partial military training than he who comes fresh from the farm or from civil life without such knowledge—however enthusiastic, however patriotic he may be! And that his training should be begun

A Word With You,
Mr. Cash Buyer.

Why carry your hard earned cash to the Credit Stores where it goes no further and buys no cheaper than does a 60 day or 3 months credit for the man who buys on a credit. These credits sometimes lengthen out into never pays and someone has to make it up. Mr. Cash Buyer, do you want to help pay the bad debts? Every merchant gets a discount for cash, why not the consumer. Yet you pay as much for your goods in the credit stores as does the credit customer. We sell only for cash and therefore have only cash prices. You help to pay no bad back accounts here. We buy and sell for cash, get cash prices when we buy and give you cash prices when we sell. Compare our prices with those of the credit houses and you will realize that "money Talks."

REVOKED LICENSE.

Of Saloonkeeper McGlasson, of Metropolis.

Metropolis, Ill., Oct. 25.—Mayor Elliott has revoked the saloon license of John Tipton McGlasson. The reason John Tipton McGlasson has no saloon license is because of the fact that he confessed to the charge that he had been violating the Sunday closing law. John Tipton McGlasson has nobody to blame but his own self for the position in which he finds himself. Instead of blaming the mayor he ought rather to commend him for the performance of his duty.

"The smith makes more noise to earn a penny than the goldsmith to earn a dollar." So a "poster and sign campaign" in advertising requires more trouble to earn a dollar for the business man than the newspaper campaign causes in earning a hundred.

ENVOY TO JAPAN

CANADA REPRESENTATIVE WILL START ON MISSION.

Dominion Will Pay Damages to Japs Whose Homes Were Destroyed in Riots.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 25.—Among the passengers sailing on the steamship Empress of India for the Orient today is the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux who has been appointed Canada's envoy to Japan to take up the immigration problem with the Japanese government. By sending Mr. Lemieux to Japan and at the same time paying damages to the Japanese residents who suffered in the recent riots in this city it is believed that the differences between the two countries will be amicably settled.

In presenting the case of Canada to the Japanese government Mr. Lemieux will make a strong point of the fact that in urging upon parliament the act of last session, giving the force of the Canadian law to the Anglo-Japanese treaty of 1894, the prime minister met objections to the clause of the treaty which provides for full right of entry and residence in Canada to Japanese, by assuring the house that the government of Japan would still be bound to the agreement to restrict immigration to a certain number of Japanese subjects yearly.

GOVERNOR PARDONS

Men Fined Under Act Declared Unconstitutional.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Clemency was exercised today by Gov. Patterson in a case from Haywood county, which was out of the ordinary. The legislature passed a special law for Haywood county. Under the law several road contractors were fined and one appealed to the supreme court, which he declared the law unconstitutional. Among those fined were W. B. Weaver, W. L. McConnell, W. R. Smith and Charley Gobbs against each of whom $5 was assessed in September, 1905. These men did not appeal and the governor relieved them on recommendation of the judge, attorney-general and county officials, and because the law had been declared unconstitutional.

Proposed Illinois State Primary Law Is Drastic In All Its Provisions.

Springfield, Oct. 25.—Some of the important provisions of the new primary election law passed by the Illinois lower house Wednesday are as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the people of the state of Illinois, represented in the general assembly: The nomination of all candidates for all elective state, congressional, senatorial, county, city and village (including officers of the municipal court of Chicago), town and judicial offices, for electors of president and vice president of the United States, members of the state board of equalization, clerks of the appellate courts and trustees of sanitary districts and for the election of delegates and alternates to national nominating conventions, and for precinct and state central committees, by all political parties, as defined by section 2 of this act, shall be made in the manner provided in this act, and not otherwise.

Sec. 6. A primary shall be held on the last Saturday in April in every year in which officers are to be voted for on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of each year, for the nomination of candidates for such offices as are to be voted for at such November election, and shall be known as the April primary.

A primary shall be held on the last Saturday in April in any year in which judges of the supreme court, judges of the circuit court and judges of the superior court of Cook county, or any of them, are to be elected, for the nomination of candidates for such offices respectively.

A primary shall be held on the last Saturday in February in each year for the nomination of such officers as are to be voted for on the first Tuesday in April of such year.

A primary shall be held on the second Saturday in March in each year for the nomination of such officers as are to be voted for on the third Tuesday in April of such year.

A primary for the nomination for all other officers, nominations for which are required to be made under the provisions of this act, shall be held three weeks preceding the date of the general election for such offices respectively.

Sec. 60. The person receiving the highest number of votes at a primary as a candidate of a party for the nomination for an office shall be the candidate of that party for such office and his name as such candidate shall be placed on the official ballot at the election then next ensuing, provided that where there are two or more persons to be nominated for the same office or board, the requisite number of persons receiving the highest number of votes shall be nominated and their names shall be placed on the official ballot at the following election.

When two or more persons receive an equal and the highest number of votes for the nomination for the same office, of the same political party, or where more than one person of the same political party is to be nominated as a candidate for office, if it appears that more than the number of persons to be nominated have the highest and equal number of votes for the nomination for the same office or for delegate or alternate to national nominating conventions or state central committees, the board, which the returns of the primary are canvassed, shall decide by lot, which of such persons shall be nominated or elected as the case may be. In such case, said canvassing board shall issue notice in writing to such persons of such tie vote, stating therein the place, the day (which shall not be more than five (5) days thereafter), and the hour when such nomination shall be so determined.

SURVEYORS

STILL WORKING ACROSS THE OHIO RIVER.

Metropolis Reports Burlington Men Operating in That Vicinity.

Metropolis, Ill., Oct. 25.—The Burlington surveyors are still busily engaged in making surveys and maps of the approaches of the river here. They have made a survey of the shores on both sides for two miles up and down the river from Baynes Lake on the Kentucky shore to the mouth of Massac creek. Later surveys on this side brings the proposition much closer to the town than the first surveys—one of these surveys comes close up to the dwelling of Billy Borman, formerly of Lang-Fouts place. The measurements and maps made by Mr. Pearsons and corps when turned into the general office of the Burlington, will show the head officials just what can be relied upon as to the work required if the construction of a railroad here and exactly as to the approaches to and the height and length of a bridge across the river here. Mr. Pearsons says that actual measurements make even a better impression as to the feasibility of this place as a bridge point than he anticipated.

The party will probably be with us a number of days yet.

Madame A. (mother of two marriageable daughters) "Really, I don't know whether to send my girls to the seashore or some inland watering place. They are both very much run down." Madame B. "Well, I would advise sulphur springs for a change Sulphur, you know, is one of the principal requisites for match-making."—H. H. H.

RIVER NEWS

The river continues falling rapidly at this point and this morning the low stage of 5.4 was shown on the marks of the government gauge. This is a fall of .6 since yesterday. The water has fallen so low that the top of the sandbar could be seen this morning for the first time this season.

The J. B. Richardson left this morning for Cairo with a large cargo of freight and a good passenger list. The towboat Lyda is in from the Tennessee with a tow of ties.

ALL the same, you'll want to buy these clothes when you see them; they're the kind that stylish, well-dressed men want to wear, made on the latest and most fashionable models of the finest fabrics, tailored in the most perfect manner. No man will find better clothes than the Roxboro anywhere. The prices are $20 to $50. Other lines $10 to $30. GRAYS and browns chiefly, with browns a strong favorite. Brown is a color that admits of so many modifications, such a variety of shades and patterns, that its popularity is easily understood. We show some of the most beautiful

Capt. Mark Cole, of the steamer Dick Fowler, has received notice that the charges against him for mismanagement of the Fowler while on the trip down the Mississippi to Memphis will be heard at Cairo at a date that is yet to be set.

Captain Cole is requested to furnish the inspector the names of those whom he wishes subpoenaed to appear at the investigation to testify in his behalf. He will

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, will remain about stationary during the next several days.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, will continue falling during the next several days.
